

From the former
WHERE'S MY MONEY?
At whose? Yet neither in my purse.
Nor pocket are there any. I've very few coins, and that's all I have.
For some time, I wear plain clothes.
I seldom buy jam, tarts, preserves or honey;
And no one ever gives me a cent.
Now, where's mine?

I've principles. Folks don't see me staggering
With pride and傲慢, in the public street.
I never brag—nor even a ring.
I have a notion that my own feet
Are better than those of any one else.
I never had a farthing. It is funny,
The longer I investigate, the more
Avidly I look, where my money's.

My money, mind you, is the editor's dollars
That I borrow, and pay him back again.
Once or twice, there's that pink of scholars
Van Dusen helps as much on wine
As I can get, every thing. Yet he seems
Honest, and I like him, though a hussy.
With a good show as a darning-witch,
And search for gold as vanity. Where's my money?

I can't complain the editors don't pay me
For the work I do, and the time I spend.
And well I know, My artifices are flimsy.
Enough to blow up any Magazine.

What's general in the affair though is, that at
The time I'm writing, I have none.
That makes me feel I don't lose but.
Gloves, high, silk or cashmere. "Always money."

But I make it say so. Where's my money?

There's a great many things I can't afford.

One of them is that pink of scholars

Van Dusen helps as much on wine

As I can get, every thing. Yet he seems

Honest, and I like him, though a hussy.

With a good show as a darning-witch,
And search for gold as vanity. Where's my money?

However, a good eye of malice,
Tells me I only pockets to the bone.

Takes, whiskers, trinkets, music boxes, that Hisp's

Gems, diamonds, belts—things that might

A man to count, but not I, by what?

I think so. My acquaintances think not,

No master. I growlous. Where's my money?

The Great English Remedy.

Sir James Clark's Celebrated English Pills.

Pills from a prescription of Sir James Clark, M.

B., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This invaluable Medicine is unrivaled in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It cures all cases, removes all obstructions,

and brings on the monthly period with regularity.

These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution and lessen the suffering during labor, enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and her infant.

These Pills should be used by every female during the first three months of pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Marriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spastic Affection, pain in the Back and Limbs, Headache, Epilepsy, or Sight. Epilepsy, Palpitation of the Heart, Losses of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system;

These Pills will effect a cure when all the means have failed; although a powerful remedy,

it need not be used but once a day.

It is a valuable addition to the physician's and apothecary's practice.

Prepared by Dr. J. B. WADDELL, Druggist, No.

1 Appleton Street, New Haven, Conn.

FRED. E. SMITH, Montpelier, Wholesale Agent

or Vermont, who always should be addressed to him, and will speak for him.

Also, Dr. J. B. WADDELL & E. B. WADDELL
